

LOOKING | AHEAD

A glimpse into your entertaining future.

OCTOBER

5 – The Tulsa Symphony orchestrates an elegant start for the 10th anniversary season of the Evenings at the Bernsen concert series when it plays at the Bernsen Community Life Center. 388-4720

5-7 – The Tulsa Performing Arts Center gets a makeover when Grace Ann Productions turns a black box theater into the Cotton Club for the musical revue tribute to Fats Waller, "Ain't Misbehavin'." 596-7111, tulsaworld.com/mytix

5-28 – Blood trails, torture chambers and a ghostly labyrinth are just a few of the spooky happenings of the Haunted Castle Halloween Festival at the Castle in Muskogee, weekends throughout the month. (800) 439-0658, tulsaworld.com/castle

6-14 – When things go wrong for a diva, they go wrong fantastically. Puccini's tragic romance "Tosca" revels in the deadly final resort of a famed beauty moved to save her tortured lover in Napoleonic-era Rome. Tulsa Opera opens the masterpiece at the Tulsa Performing Arts Center. 596-7111, tulsaworld.com/mytix

6 – Take a closer look at Oklahoma's past from the ground up when the Sand Springs Artifact & Fossil Show displays the collections of local fossil and artifact hunters at the Sand Springs Plaza Community Center. 640-6590

6 – No one who's ever heard the Canadian Brass would call the renowned quintet a one-note act. Judge for yourself as the group scales the range from classical repertoire to jazz to popular and contemporary works with the Bartlesville Symphony Orchestra at the Bartlesville Community Center. 336-2787. tulsaworld.com/bart-symphony

7 – Jewish ritual and culture light a candle over Tulsa for ShalomFest, the annual celebration of all-foods-kosher, Jewish music, art and history at Temple

Boo Ha Harry

STEPHEN HOLMAN / Tulsa World

Kiddies, goblins and wizards take over Brookside again as businesses open their doors Oct. 27 for Boo Ha Ha, the annual Halloween dayfest that starts with a pancake breakfast and includes pet costume contests, a parade and trick or treating. 260- 7680, tulsaworld.com/brookside

Israel. 747-1309, tulsaworld.com/shalomfest

11-14 – Have your barbecue and know you're eating it for a good cause. The Brush Creek Bazaar benefiting the Brush Creek Youth Ranch brings crafters, visual and performing artists, food and live music to the barn at the corner of 109th Street and Louisville Avenue for this annual event. 749-0101, tulsaworld.com/brushcreekbaz

11 – Moving from pops to classics, the Signature Symphony performs with Andrew von Oeyen, a pianist who has stacked up rave reviews from around the world for his attention to musical technique and artistic flair. The concert will be at TCC's VanTrease Performing Arts Center for Education. 595-7777, tulsaworld.com/mytix

12 – Artists give their Breast Impressions of the experience of surviving breast cancer during a gala and live auction benefiting Tulsa Project Woman, all taking place at Escargot's. 691-3874, tulsaworld.com/breastimpressions

12-13 – Oklahoma revisits its roots in rollicking ragtime music with the Centennial Ragtime

Festival at the Tulsa Performing Arts Center. Jeff Barnhart, Brian Holland, Donald Ryan, Bob Ault, Nora and Mark Hulse, Glenn Jenks and others are slated to perform. 596-7111, tulsaworld.com/mytix

13 – "An Evening of Wine & Roses" means another autumn night when guests get to sample fine wine, hors d'oeuvres and dessert in the fragrant luxury of the rose gardens of the Tulsa Garden Center. 746-5125, tulsaworld.com/gardencenter

13 – Harvest a sip of the latest from the vines of Haskell's Stone Bluff Cellars Winery for the 8th Annual Green Country Wine Festival, where arts, crafts, food and entertainment come between sips and tours. (918) 482-5655, tulsaworld.com/stonebluff

14 – Brady Heights opens the doors to its historic homes for a look at the dwellings once inhabited by some of Oklahoma's early business, community and social leaders. The centennial home tour starts at Centenary United Methodist Church. 592-9135, tulsaworld.com/bradyheights

17 – Yamato puts the pulse of Japanese tradition into every beat of the Taiko drums as the group takes the centuries-old ritual to new heights in energetic performances blended with spectacle at the Tulsa Performing Arts Center. 596-7111, tulsaworld.com/mytix

18 – Oklahoma Jazz Hall of Famer Jimmy Markham shows the kids how to play the blues on harmonica, but also shows an audience why he's the most qualified person to do it. Jimmy Markham's Blues Harmonica Fest will play at the Jazz Depot. 596-1001, tulsaworld.com/jazz

18-21 – If you only do the chicken dance once a year, Oktoberfest is the time to do it. Tulsa's toast to German food, tradition, culture, language and, of course, beer takes place again beneath the tents at River West Festival Park. Prost! 744-9700, tulsaworld.com/oktoberfest

ON SALE THIS WEEK

Bob Schneider

On sale: 10 a.m. Friday, tulsaworld.com/gettix, (866) 443-8849, 584-2306, Starship Records, Reasors
On stage: Nov. 29, Cain's Ballroom

TULSA FAIR CONCERTS

Kansas, Friday; Keith Sweat, Saturday; John Anderson, Sunday; Tree 63 with Jump5, Monday; Jason Aldean, Tuesday; Air Supply, Wednesday; Saliva, Thursday; Switchfoot, Oct. 5; Jordan Pruitt, Oct. 6; Johnny Rivers, Oct. 7

*Concerts on the fair's Oklahoma Stage are free with paid gate admission. For more, call 744-1113 or go online to www.tulsaworld.com/tulsafair.

CONCERT CALENDAR

The Academy Is, Friday, Cain's Ballroom, tulsaworld.com/gettix, (866) 443-8849, 584-2306, Starship Records, Reasors

Danielle Peck, Friday, Buffalo Run Casino in Miami, tulsaworld.com/buffalorun, (918) 542-7140 ext. 2200

Spoon, Saturday, Cain's Ballroom, tulsaworld.com/gettix, (866) 443-8849, 584-2306, Starship Records, Reasors

Kansas, Saturday, Buffalo Run Casino in Miami, tulsaworld.com/buffalorun, (918) 542-7140 ext. 2200

Sum 41, Tuesday, Cain's Ballroom, tulsaworld.com/gettix, (866) 443-8849, 584-2306, Starship Records, Reasors

Hanson, Wednesday, Cain's Ballroom, tulsaworld.com/gettix, (866) 443-8849, 584-2306, Starship Records, Reasors

JoDee Messina, Thursday, Expo Square Pavilion following PRCA Championship Rodeo, tulsaworld.com/expo-square, 744-1113

Rockin' Docs for the United Way, Thursday, Cain's Ballroom, tulsaworld.com/UnitedWay, 295-6655

Blake Shelton, Oct. 5, Expo Square Pavilion following PRCA Championship Rodeo, tulsaworld.com/exposquare, 744-1113

Aqueduct, Oct. 5, Cain's Ballroom, tulsaworld.com/gettix, (866) 443-8849, 584-2306, Starship Records, Reasors

Puddle of Mudd, Oct. 5, Osage Million Dollar Elm Casino, tulsaworld.com/gettix, (866) 443-8849

Chris Cagle, Oct. 6, Expo Square Pavilion following PRCA Championship Rodeo, tulsaworld.com/exposquare, 744-1113

Joe Bonamassa, Oct. 6, Cain's Ballroom, tulsaworld.com/gettix, (866) 443-8849, 584-2306, Starship Records, Reasors

The Rat Pack, with Jason DeLong, Jeff Shadley, Chuck Cissel and others, Oct. 7, Jazz Depot, tulsaworld.com/jazz, 596-1001